CHIP • MALE 5-YEAR-OLD RAT TERRIER

Chip was a surrender. His owner was no longer able to provide care for him. He is very friendly and energetic. He would prefer a home without young children - and wouldn't mind being an only child and getting all the attention! Chip has been neutered and is up-to-date on all his vaccinations.

BARB LUCAS is a retired educator, avid bird watcher and nature photographer. Capturing the beauty of wildlife in the natural settings of Indiana and elsewhere is her passion. Barb co-operates with Dunes State Park as well as with Tippecanoe River State Park leading nature walks and teaching participants how to better utilize their cameras to achieve great photos. She will be leading a nature walk/camera workshop on Saturday.

ASHLEY VITOUX creates beautiful works of art using pyrography, "writing with fire," also known as wood-burning. Her work features wildlife and nature and you can watch her work at the Nature Center where she will be using her talents to decorate an oar.

MARCIA SMITH-WOOD has loved to draw all her life, has taught drawing at St. Joseph's College and continues to use drawing in many parts of her life, whether as a Presbyterian minister, retreat leader, spiritual director or as a grandmother. She is also a dancer, Certified Healing Touch Practitioner and writer. You are invited to join the Jasper County Art League as Marcia will lead a praise service Sunday morning at 9:30 in the River Shelter.

PAM HEUSER is an interior decorator by trade and multi-media artist by heart. Her specialties are in faux art techniques, folk painting, collage, ceramics and photography, often times combining many different techniques into one work of art. Pam will be teaching 2 make and take workshops on stab-binding journals.

DOREN SPYCHALA, a retired dental technician, will be demonstrating hardwood sculpting with a dental hand-piece power tool in the Nature Center. Watch her create a human face from a piece of walnut, cherry or tagua nut and see some of her amazing work in her display. Doreen will also be one of the team teaching horse-hair (coiled baskets) to the horse campers.

CLAUDIA PLETTING is a photographer who also uses her camera to capture moments of beauty to create beautiful watercolors. Claudia will be presenting 2 make and take workshops on whimsical watercolor cards to be held at Tipicon.

JANE HULLINGS is an avid appreciator of the arts. She is a retired banker and active community volunteer. Jane will be leading a Gyotaku, fishing printing, workshop in which participants will be creating their own fish prints to take home with them. Look for Jane in the River Shelter.

LISA GEORGE is owner/operator of her own antique/art studio. Lisa will be teaching 2 make and take acrylic painting workshops at Tipicon.

MAIA HAWTHORNE, PHD, is associate professor of English at St. Joseph's College in Rensselaer. Her workshop will begin with examining what nature writers like Henry David Thoreau, Annie Dillard, Gary Snyder and Mary Oliver say they are doing when they are observing nature. Participants will then be encouraged to take some time out of their day in the park to observe mindfully and record their experience in writing. The group will join together later in the afternoon to share their works.

DORIS MYERS, retired art teacher and artist extraordinaire, is our oldest member of Jasper County Art League. Nearly 95 years young, Doris will be leading young adults in the use of watercolor painting at the Family Campground. You can also find her on the water's edge near the Nature Center as she demonstrates acrylic painting.

JUDY KANNE retired from St. Joseph's College as visiting education professor. She is currently the volunteer director of the Lillian Fendig Gallery at the Carnegie Center in Rensselaer, home to the Jasper County Art League. Judy will be working with all ages to create origami (paper folding) sculptures at the Family Campground Friday evening and at the River Shelter Saturday morning.

LINDA KOZYRA, retired school bus driver, has found her artistic outlet using colored pencils and watercolor to portray the beauty she sees around her. Linda will be presenting a demonstration of colored pencil use near the River Shelter.

CHRISTINE HERRE is an artist who works in a variety of media. She will be one of the team teaching horse-hair basket weaving (coiled baskets) to the horse campers. You will also find her plein air painting somewhere in the park.

GAIL WOOLEVER, retired art teacher and artist, will be demonstrating how to throw pots on the potters' wheel near the River Shelter. She will also be teaching horse-hair (coiled) basket weaving in the horse campgrounds Sunday evening.

PRISCILLA KNOPF works in many media, often combining many materials into one piece of art. Priscilla will be plein air painting, assisting other artists and teaching horse-hair (coiled) basketry in the horse campgrounds. You might also find her throwing pots in the River Shelter.
